NEW EMPLOYEE ANNOUNCEMENT: JENNIFER PALAZZOLO

RICHMOND, VA—Virginia Health Information is pleased to announce the recent addition of new associate, Jennifer Palazzolo, data analyst. Palazzolo brings with her a wealth of knowledge and experience that will help sustain and build upon the growth that Virginia Health Information has enjoyed in recent years.

“I am thrilled to join VHI,” says Palazzolo. “I’m excited to work in an organization that utilizes the combination of my technology skills and knowledge of public health. I look forward to contributing to VHI’s mission.

“We’re very excited to have Jennifer join our team,” says Michael Lundberg, executive director. “We expect Jennifer’s previous experience to be of great benefit to VHI and our users.

Jennifer’s previous experience includes working as an analyst in the investment management industry and as an independent technology consultant. Palazzolo returned to school to obtain her Master’s in Public Health at Virginia Commonwealth University School of Medicine. Her research interest includes chronic disease and geographic analysis of public health issues such as disease disparity.

Virginia Health Information is the nonprofit organization the Commonwealth of Virginia and businesses go to for consumer and business health information. VHI information also includes hospitals, physicians, nursing facilities and other health care providers.
